ABSTRACT

This guide presents information about 175 periodicals that consistently carry materials about reading. The information in the guide, provided by editors of the periodicals in response to a questionnaire, is contained in two lists. The first list offers information about each periodical's editor, address, and editorial procedures. The second list, presented in matrix format, presents information regarding audience, materials published, publication process, and miscellaneous information. A sample of the survey questionnaire is included. (SR)

How to Use the Contributor's Guide to Periodicals in Reading

Scope

The two lists that follow include basic information about periodicals that consistently carry materials about reading. The information was provided by the editors of those periodicals in response to a questionnaire.

Using This Guide

Every periodical included in this guide appears alphabetically on each of the two lists. The first list offers information about editor, address, and editorial procedures. The second list is presented as a matrix primarily because of the compactness of that format. To use this guide most efficiently, please first read the sample questionnaire that precedes the matrix. Editors' responses to starred items on the questionnaire are reported in the matrix, and responses to unstarred items are reported in the first list. Quotation marks in the first list indicate comments of individual editors.

This guide in no way reflects advocacy or endorsement by the International Reading Association of any periodical except, of course, for the four IRA journals included.
